Hotel Al Camin will make you live as in a dream!

Al Camin Hotel, an elegant and sophisticated building, is located in Bassano del Grappa. This little town is well-known for its several historical and cultural sights, like Palladio's Alpini Bridge, for being the birthplace of the painter Jacopo da Ponte, but also for its culinary specialities, like the white asparagus and "grappa", a wine distillate. Bassano's position is really strategic: the town is few km away from some wonderful Venetian towns like Marostica, which has always appealed people with its natural beauties and for its peculiar and glorious past; Asolo, described as "the one hundred horizons town" or "the pearl of Veneto", with its very picturesque historical centre; Castelfranco Veneto, its 800 years long history being linked with its strategic position in central Veneto, few km away from Venice, an art city with thousand and one aspects that no word can describe, and Padua, which is well-known all around the world for its historic University and for its numberless works of art.
