The farmhouse "La Dolfinella", placed in the middle of a land that is as ancient as the stream running beside it, was built by the count Dolfin, a local landowner, to irrigate his crops.

Amongst the greenery in the land near Bassano de Grappa, it is a comfortable facility provided with 16 beds, bathrooms and a bedroom for the disabled.

An inner room seating 60 people is used as a restaurant.

In summer you can have dinner in the charming outer space.

Open all year long, "La Dolfinella" offers: homemade pasta with duck, vegetables and meat sauces; risottos, white meat from its own farmyard animals, roast suckling pig, pork leg and grilled pork, its own dressed pork products and typical wines. Reservation is advisable.

From Rosà, where "La Dolfinella" lies, you can reach the close towns Bassano dei Grappa, Marostica, Castelfranco Veneto, Cittadella, Asolo and Asiago in a short time.

The farmhouse is only 30 kilometres far from Treviso, Vicenza and Padua; while Venice and Verona are 90 kilometres far away.
